

The cable companies must open up to other providers. Otherwise they have a license for monopolistic extortion.